

New Sign Leaves Factory

Hope's new digital sign is leaving the factory in California on Monday January 26th. The sign which has the following design and an underneath programmable full color digital message center will be installed soon after its arrival. It will be placed approximately 85 feet to the West of the current sign which will remain in place.

The sign will be mounted between two poles and will be approximately 10 feet tall.